The 54th Annual Contractors Transportation Management Association (CTMA) 2020 Conference in San Diego, California, is scheduled for May 26-29, 2020. The conference location is the beautiful Hilton San Diego Bayfront Hotel. The Special Group Rate is $173 per night. When making reservations, please identify CTMA's Special Group Rate icon (CTMA) so we can get credit for your stay. The hotel website is Hilton San Diego Bayfront.

The CTMA consists of Department of Energy (DOE) contractor transportation and packaging (T&P) managers and logistics professionals from nationwide DOE locations, including Environmental Management, National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA) and Office of Science organizations. The annual conference provides an excellent forum for DOE T&P professionals throughout the DOE complex to exchange information and network to build a valuable T&P resource. Attendees include CTMA members, DOE and other DOE contractor professionals, motor carriers, air express companies, packaging suppliers and other vendors involved with T&P operations at the DOE and NNSA sites.

The CTMA conference will focus on contractor T&P topics throughout the DOE/NNSA complex, covering such possible areas of discussion as FMCSA, ATLAS, and RadCalc updates.

Attendance and participation by DOE/NNSA carriers/vendors, as always, are welcomed and encouraged. The planning committee will ensure the quality aspects that past CTMA conferences have provided.

CTMA Charter –

The purpose of the CTMA is to provide a forum for the meaningful exchange of operational, regulatory, and technological information and also to address areas of common interest between this organization, the appropriate Department of Energy transportation management organization, other government agencies, and members of the transportation industry.
